Regulated retail electricity prices for 2023–24: information sessions

In December 2022, we commenced our review to set regulated retail electricity prices to apply in regional Queensland in 2023–24. We published a consultation paper and set out a timetable for our review, including when we intend to publish reports and consult with stakeholders.

We expect to release our draft determination in mid-March.¹

Information sessions

We will be holding information sessions on our upcoming draft determination. We invite stakeholders to register in advance to attend a session.
